

When my husband and I bought our first home in 2020, I knew I wanted to plant some native plants, but I didn't know where to start. The mentorship program through the WPPC has been invaluable in my quest to replace invasives and grassy lawn with beneficial plants. My mentor helped me develop a plan, talked me through plant choices and has been available for updates even after the first year. Through the WPPC I gained an incredible mentor who has not only guided me as I transform my yard, but has also become a friend.
